

BAYLOR
UNIVERSITY

Coordinator of Assessment and Program Improvement

Baylor seeks to fill the following faculty position within the Baylor University Libraries and Information Technology Services division: Coordinator of Assessment and Program Improvement. The Division seeks a creative, entrepreneurial, and service-oriented professional to work with personnel across the division to assess and improve services and efficiencies, and ensure that Division activities align with University-wide institutional effectiveness goals. This is a new position, created by the Division to facilitate its ongoing development of a culture of assessment and continuous improvement.

Qualified candidates will possess either a Master's degree in library/information science from an ALA-accredited program, or a graduate degree in a relevant field (e.g. statistics, sociology, or anthropology); a demonstrated understanding of current research, practice, and theory on assessment in higher education; a mastery of statistics; and familiarity with quantitative and qualitative assessment methodologies and tools. The ideal candidate will have experience with measurement of student learning outcomes, academic library or information technology work experience, and database query skills.
